Become a CIBO Grower Network Partner

Deliver Public and Private Incentives to Your Growers

The CIBO Impact platform enables grower-focused organizations to help their customers easily apply for and stack USDA, Scope 3 and other regenerative agriculture incentive programs.

CIBO invites associations, co-ops, agronomists and retailers who are trusted advisors to growers to join our expanding partner network. Qualifying organizations can unlock new commercial opportunities for themselves and their customers by sourcing acres and supporting their growers with supplementary agronomy, retail or other services.

Give your growers a rapid understanding of incentive options, eligibility and potential returns. Deliver streamlined qualification, application, enrollment and status tracking.

“Partnering with CIBO opens up a new avenue for us to support our growers in tapping into conservation programs. We're thrilled to offer our customers access to more financial support in improving their land. It's aligned directly with our mission to unlock the potential of every acre through our agronomy services, helping growers invest in sustainable practices that make sense both environmentally and economically. For companies like ours focused on growers' needs, this collaboration is a significant opportunity.”
